

Dear Children's Pastors, Directors and Teachers,

We at SEAPC (South East Asia Prayer Center) sincerely hope to help you and your kids to learn about the people God calls specifically to mission work and the kind of work we do in the field as well as God's intense heart for reaching people.

These pages can be used however you creatively choose. They can be found on our website under the "resources" tab at the top menu when you go to www.seapc.us. Feel free to copy and distribute with our blessing.

Please send me feedback about how you used it or if you didn't use it and why: elliegep@seapc.us.

I would love to see your participation with word puzzles and games contributed by your kids for the articles. Your church and the child and class would receive full credit. These pages are found monthly in our newsletter also, which you can receive or have sent to someone else at no cost.

We do have a team going to Tibet in May from the 13- 26 and all prayer for these doctors, nurses, and prayer walkers is appreciated.

As you can see quickly, I have not held to a particular age group. I know, having taught for many years, that teachers are good at adapting. If they can't read, have them follow the pictures while you read or story tell. If they are older, let them do the pages in partner groups for fun. Kids learn when we don't think they are —just keep them focused by setting a time limit and playing a quiz game with the information. One your kids might like to play is having them form 2 teams. Each gets a letter spelling Cambodia or Tibet or lion when they answer correctly, until the word is spelled. Use your own winner's reward system.

This is a beginning. Help us make it better and more complete as you use it and give us feedback. It is our effort to stir kids to hear God's call and Respond — and it is free! We hope to have video clips as we develop. Pray.

Hello from Ellie.
We at SEAPC thought you might like to get some kid-style materials about our mission work.

Our ministry is based on prayer walking and following through with where and how He leads us.
